

Paying for online and ad hoc purchases with
AirPlus Virtual Cards
Procurement

A good deal, easier!

Procurement

Imagine this: Your marketing department wants to buy a video jingle on the internet, your IT department needs to pay online for software licenses, your strategy team wants to commission a study. Hardly a problem you would think - but: most online suppliers of software, image material, studies, event tickets and similar products demand immediate online payment. Purchases like these usually can't be handled by your existing procurement system.

Eliminate antiquated processes and take control!

AirPlus Virtual Cards Procurement are the convenient, flexible and secure payment solution for these one-off corporate expenses. They have been specifically designed to help you centralise, monitor and control online and ad hoc purchases and help you improve your cash flow.

With AirPlus Virtual Cards Procurement you can centralise your corporate spend on a wide range of goods and services, such as

- Telephony
- Couriers
- Insurances
- Hardware
- Electronics
- Software licenses
- Office supplies
- Books and magazines
- Ebooks
- Online advertising
- Market research
- Domain registration and much more!

For a frictionless payment experience

Outstanding acceptance

AirPlus Virtual Cards Procurement are the virtual version of a Mastercard® credit card, which you create on demand to pay centrally for one-time or even recurring corporate purchases.

Uniquely secure

The virtual card numbers you generate can be limited to a purpose, an exact invoice amount, a currency and a period of use. They become invalid after use and can't be lost or stolen from your wallet.

With AirPlus Virtual Cards Procurement you get so much more than just the goods

With AirPlus Virtual Cards Procurement it is easy to:

Control and monitor your spend

- All transactions are summarised in one single statement and billed centrally
- Easy integration into your existing finance and controlling systems or processes
- Up to eight additional data fields for your company individual information such as cost center or personnel number - great for assigning spend to a project or person
- Detailed back-end reporting

Streamline your processes

- Online card generation is quick and easy
 - Lodge your cards with preferred suppliers
- Since all expenses are settled centrally, time-consuming and error-prone individual settlements are eliminated

Negotiate better rates with your suppliers

Being able to see the bigger picture and patterns in spend will help you to negotiate with suppliers

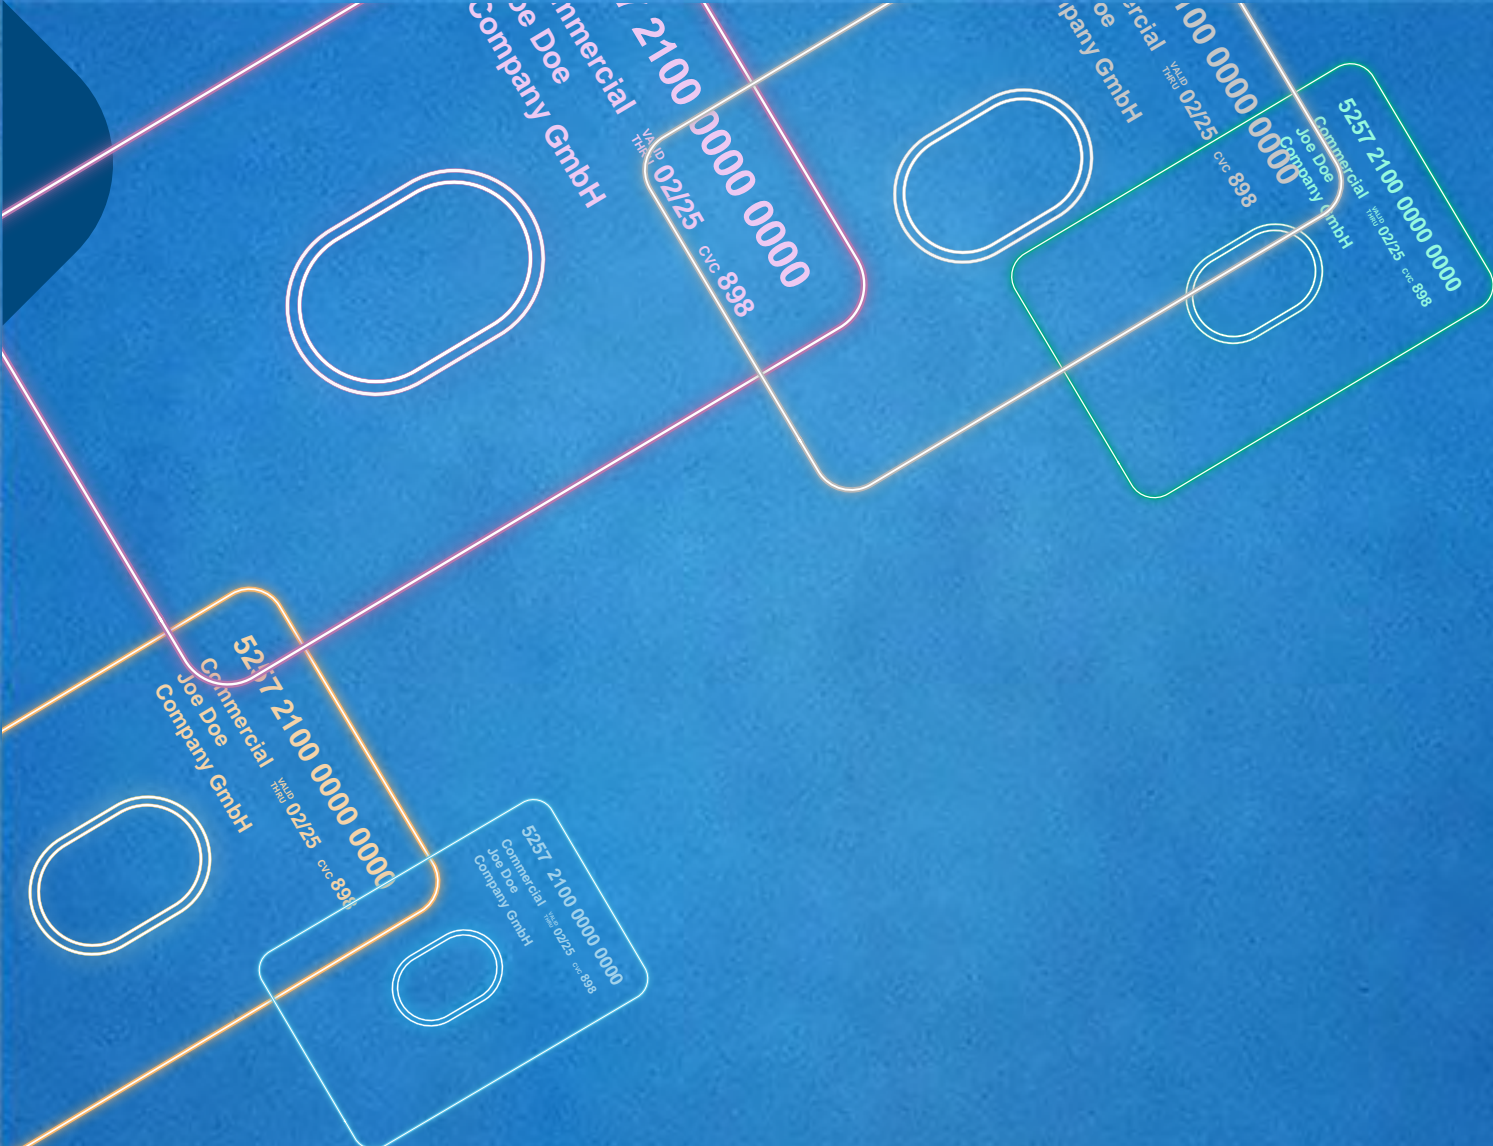

Improve your Cashflow

All your transactions are summarised in a clear statement and billed to you collectively – at the end of the agreed billing period. So while your suppliers are paid punctually by AirPlus, you profit from a longer payment period, thus a free credit line and an improved cash flow – compared for example to standard bank transfer.

Better engage with your suppliers

AirPlus Virtual Cards not only increase your days payables outstanding (DPO) but simultaneously decrease your suppliers' days sales outstanding (DSO). Offer them improved payment terms, a simplified accounts receivable process, and enhanced payment data.
