

AirPlus Travel Agency Account. Pay your suppliers securely.

As the owner or employee of a travel agency, you know full well that sometimes everything has to go fast. That's when you need a payment method you can rely on without hesitation to purchase flight tickets for your customers from your broker (consolidator).

But you also need to buy at a special rate with a low cost carrier for your customer. Hotels, train tickets, and even rental cars are also often purchased. The service providers require immediate payment. Often the credit card used is one that is issued to the office manager or even the individual travel agents. Later, a tedious process is required to allocate the individual transactions on the credit card statement to the customer accounts.

But that is now a thing of the past: with the AirPlus Travel Agency Account, we offer your company a flexible method of payment with worldwide acceptance based on UATP and Mastercard® for purchasing tourism services. A payment method that is specially tailored to your needs.

Pay your suppliers securely

Use the Travel Agency Account to make payments to your consolidator, low-cost carriers, hotels, car rental agencies, for travel visas, or for tickets from many rail companies like SBB, Deutsche Bahn, and Voyages SnCF (Rail Europe Shop).

With the additional feature AirPlus A.I.D.A., you can book/purchase and pay all international providers that accept only Mastercard®. In this case a virtual credit card, which can be generated when required, is used.

Instead of many individual documents you will receive a clear account statement. You can easily customize the statement with internal travel agency information (DBI).

With the Travel Agency Account, you reduce your administration, improve your cash flow, and reduce your personal risk.

Your advantages at a glance:

- > The AirPlus Travel Agency Account is set up in the name of your travel agency
- > No personal liability
- > An adequate credit card limit which is invoiced directly to the company's account
- > Improved cash flow from periodic invoicing with direct debit
- > You don't need to open a new bank account, your current banking details remain in place
- > Risk of fraud is minimized because the AirPlus Travel Agency Account is stored centrally and is specially set up to meet the needs of the travel industry
- > Instead of many individual documents, you receive a clearly organized invoice with your internal travel agency information (DBI)

- > Can be used for payments or security deposits for individual services such as in micro-tour operating
- > Easy and secure payment with one or more AirPlus Travel Agency Account(s)
- > Our virtual Mastercard® (AirPlus A.I.D.A.) allows on-line/off-line purchasing and payment with the relevant service providers, from airline to rail to hotel room
- > 100% PCI DSS compliant
- > 24/7 online services
- > And the best part: The AirPlus Travel Agency Account is available to you at no charge

Up to three travel agency-specific references (DBI) can be added to each purchase transaction, for example agent number/name, customer invoice number, or dossier number.

A clear and detailed account statement provides easy and fast monitoring of purchase transactions.
