AirPlus group has decided to end any business activities in your specific region. In order to assist you for a neat-less transition of your business payment needs to a new payment provider, AirPlus has evaluated and entered into partnership contracts that can support you with payment services in your market following our exit. If we find a suitable solution, we would like to reach out to you with the details and connect you with them to ensure you receive prioritized contact and onboarding. This will keep disruption to your companies' payment services to a minimum.
