The Subscriber shall keep its user-name and password secret. AirPlus does not accept any responsibility for the use of the Online Service. AirPlus disclaims without limitation all liability for any loss or damage of any kind incurred in connection with the use of the Online Service save in the case of gross negligence or intent on the part of AirPlus. The Subscriber agrees to observe all applicable law (including intellectual property rights and criminal laws) when using the Online Service. The Subscriber shall indemnify AirPlus from all claims of third parties against AirPlus in connection with the Subscriber's use of the Portal. In the event of theft, loss or forgery of the Account, the Subscriber shall not be liable for losses if Subscriber has taken all necessary and reasonable precautions to prevent misuse of the Account, and has informed AirPlus of theft, loss or forgery of the Account immediately. This shall not apply if the Subscriber has acted with gross negligence or fraudulent intent; in such case, Subscriber will be fully liable for such loss. In case of losses, Subscriber is, until notification of theft, loss or forgery of the Account to AirPlus, liable up to a maximum of CHF 100, unless Subscriber has given evidence of gross negligence or fraudulent intent. AirPlus shall not be liable for the non-acceptance of the Account, for whatever reason, by any Accepting Company or other person authorised to accept the Account. The Subscriber shall not be entitled to refuse to pay amounts invoiced by AirPlus as a result of any dispute between the Subscriber and an Accepting Company or any other entitled person, or any claim by the Subscriber against AirPlus or any Accepting Company authorised by AirPlus. This provision does not hold if AirPlus comes to the conclusion that no factual or legal reason exists for the claims of the Accepting Company. Disputes as referred to herein are considered to be particularly those that deal with the Subscriber's assertion of claims due to poor service or lack of service or failures on the side of the Accepting Company, or other objections by the Subscriber against an Accepting Company or another person entitled to this. The Subscriber is not entitled to offset receivables with counterclaims against AirPlus or an Accepting Company, unless the claim is acknowledged by AirPlus or is the subject of a binding decision of a court. The Subscriber is not entitled to assert a right of retention.

7. Furnishing or strengthening collateral

AirPlus can demand bank guaranties for all claims from the business relationship with the Contract Enterprise, and also then if the claims are contingent. Even if AirPlus has at first wholly or partially waived the demand that collateral be furnished or strengthened, AirPlus can nevertheless demand collateral at a later point in time. However, this is on the condition that circumstances arise or become known which justify a higher risk assessment of the claims against the Contract Enterprise.

This can especially be the case if the economic circumstances of the Contract Enterprise have deteriorated or threaten to deteriorate, or if the value of the available collateral has deteriorated or threatens to deteriorate. Until collateral is furnished or strengthened, AirPlus is entitled to withhold, wholly or partially at its own due discretion, amounts due for payment to the Contract Enterprise. AirPlus is not entitled to demand collateral if it is explicitly agreed that the Contract Enterprise need not furnish collateral at all or only collateral specified in detail. 9. Descriptive Billing Information

If the Subscriber requests descriptive billing information in addition to the standard billing information, the Subscriber shall enter into a corresponding agreement with the Accepting Company which it uses. AirPlus has the right to terminate the Contract without further notification if Subscriber has declared bankruptcy or has undertaken attempt to do so, if Subscriber requests or is granted suspension from payments, or if Subscriber shus down or fiquidates his Company or prepares to do so. After termination of a Contract, AirPlus will refund a potential credit balance directly to Subscriber.

13. Alterations and Amendments
